SURPRISE SHOWER FOR BABY MIDDLEMASS

Mrs. G. (Mickey) Middlemass was pleasantly surprised last Wednesday evening when a number of friends called in a surprise baby shower for baby Charmayne and presented her with a bath-a-babe table.

A social evening was spent after which a delicious lunch was served with Mrs. J. Middlemass pouring tea.

Hildegard Will Have Her First Date With Charlie

Charlie McCarthy will have his ears caressed by the velvet voice of the glamorous Hildegard when she shows up for her first date with Edgar Bergen's implan splinter on Sunday, October 14, at 8:00 p.m. (EST) over NBCL. Of course, there will be his program regulars, Ray Noble and the fifteen-year-old songstress, Anita Gordon.

Hildegard may be called upon to be intermediary between a current Bergen-McCarthy feud. It seems Charlie has padded his expense account with such items as paraffin, frappes, and crepes suzettes. Now he's in the dog house. McCarthy rumors he may take it on the lam from Bergen. "He'll soon find out," Charlie warns, "that good ventriloquist assistants don't grow on trees."

Anita Gordon is the program's vocal feature. Ray Noble arranges and conducts the music heard on the half-hour comedy airshow.

Refuse Increase Miners' Rations

"No case has been made which would distinguish the coal miner from workers in many other heavy occupations and entitle him to the preferred treatment requested," K. W. Taylor, Foods co-ordinator said, following recent discussions between the Prices Board and Canadian labour organizations including representatives of U.M.A. District 18.

The only country which succeeded in devising a scale of meat rations for various workers was Germany which, in 1944, allowed heavy workers supplies additional to the 1/2 pound per person week standard ration, but in no case did additional supplies put the full ration above Canada's standard ration of 2 pounds per week, carcass weight, Mr. Taylor said. Our standard meat ration is at least 50 percent higher than rations in the United Kingdom and two or three or more times as great as in any European country.

As the purpose of meat rationing in Canada is to reduce consumption of meat, conceding claims for extra rations to heavy workers would necessitate reducing the standard ration by an equivalent amount in order to hold the over-all consumption within the target set. Under such a system the family ration of many heavy workers would be no greater than at present and in not a few cases would be less, Mr. Taylor said.

Quoting from the Canadian Advisory Committee on Nutrition which reports "a ration allowance of two pounds of meat, plus customary and available amounts of milk, eggs, cheese, fish and poultry, gives more protein from animal sources to satisfy nutritional requirements than is required for a person of any occupation," Mr. Taylor remarked, "the Board will continue to see that mining, lumbering and similar communities get their full share of these meat alternatives."

If we don't have self-discipline, we will have discipline—period.

On motion Council was regularly adjourned.

To the Mayor and Council, Town of Wainwright.

We, your committee on Fire, Light and Utilities beg to report as follows: We, together with members of Council have further studied the plans and specifications of the proposed water and sewerage system for the town of Wainwright as submitted by the engineers, Hadden and Miles of Calgary, and decided that a few changes and extensions as indicated on the plan of town site, would be very desirable. If they can be made and financed without raising the present proposed cost to consumers.

We are of the opinion this can be done, and are satisfied that the extra work could be done at a much less cost in the original contract, than to go through the regular municipal procedure at a later date.

We therefore recommend that Council arrange to meet Mr. John Hadden to present the plan of these suggested changes on Friday, October 5th and obtain his advice, so that we may install the best possible service to the most people.

Respectfully submitted,
EARL L. COOK
Chairman.

Meat Rationing Will Be Modified

A telegram received this morning by A. F. Dreger, Northern Alberta Representative of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada, from A. C. MacKay, Provincial Secretary of the R.M.A., at Ottawa, stated that the Committee that met with the government officials at Ottawa yesterday, were successful in having a number of their recommendations granted.

The rationed meats in Group E will be deleted from the list entirely. Other considerable changes will be made in coupon values in groups B, C, and D, and a complete announcement will be forthcoming from the government within a week or ten days. However, it is understood that the doors are not being closed for further negotiations to iron out future problems. It was suggested in the telegram to urge the dealers to carry on with business as usual, pending the Board's decision.

While the full text of changes in rationing is not known, in the meantime the butchers are being organized in a National Butchers' Association, through the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada. Mr. Dreger stated that as soon as enrollment is completed, a general meeting will be called to elect the executive committees. This will possibly take place next month. He stated further that the majority of the butchers are enrolling without hesitation, as they all realize that organization is necessary in order to deal with their various problems, not only now, but in the future as well.

Bank Of Montreal Crop Report No. 14

Heavy rains and snow have seriously delayed harvesting operations in the Prairie Provinces and threshing, only now being resumed in some areas, will not be general again for a few days even with good weather. Some cutting and considerable threshing remains to be done in some central and northern areas. While the quality of early outturns was satisfactory, the prolonged wet spell and recent frosts will lower the grades of unthreshed grain. Lodging of uncut crops has occurred where snowfall was comparatively heavy. Pastures generally are in good condition. Lifting of a satisfactory beet crop has commenced.

Opportunities knock each week in The Star want ads.

Game On The Menu

The sound of the gun and the enjoyment of the well cooked game bird are now being appreciated by many Alberta hunters and their families. The thrill and enjoyment of good shooting is experienced a second time as the hunter takes up the carving knife and distributes, together with tales of the kill, the choice morsels to the diners.

Game meat is a wholesome and nourishing food and has a distinctive flavour which differs from the meat of domestic animals. Whether or not it is necessary to dress the game immediately after shooting depends on the weather. Mrs. Macdonald, Supervisor of the Home Economics Service, says that game birds may be carried through the day without cleaning, but if they are to be kept for more than one day in warm weather without refrigeration, they should be drawn as soon as possible. The feathers should be left on until the hunter returns home. Skinning of game birds is sometimes done, since this is easier than plucking, but some of the flavour is lost by skinning. Freshly killed game should be bled, and allowed to age in a cool place at least 24 hours before cooking.

Like domestic fowl, the older birds will be the tougher, and will require more cooking. Young tender meat may be boiled or fried, but mature carcasses should be aged for several days and may be par-boiled first and then cooked slowly.

Pheasant meat is similar to chicken but dryer. Most chicken recipes are quite suitable for preparing pheasant. Cooking in a covered roaster helps to retain the moisture. Any moist heat method for preparing fowl is desirable.

Wild duck is darker and dryer than the domestic variety. The flavour of wild duck may be lessened by placing a small peeled carrot in the duck, plunging in boiling water and simmering for ten minutes before roasting. If the duck is young omit the parboiling and rub with an onion cut in two. Put four or five uncooked cranberries in each before cooking. Onion stuffing will also help. The Mallard Duck is dry when roasted. A recommended method is to stuff with bread stuffing, baste with bacon drippings and roast slowly for an hour.

Canada's Imports Balance Exports

Sugar! Canada produced 175 million pounds of sugar in 1944; We consumed 1018 million pounds, a spread of 843 million pounds between what we produced and what we ate. In short we only grew 17% of our consumption.

Tea, Coffee, Cocoa! We do not grow one single pound of any of these everyday things in Canada. We import every ounce we consume from some other country. We do not grow oranges, lemons, grapefruit or bananas in Canada. If people in warm latitudes refused to share these things with us where would we be?

We grow no rice—raisins—currants—cinnamon, cloves, pepper, ginger, allspice or nutmeg. They are all imported, some of them come thousands of miles before taking their humble place in our cupboards.

We grow very few nuts in Canada—not enough to take care of a fraction of our demand. Not even enough for Santa Claus to hand out at Christmas time.

We grow neither dates, figs nor winter grapes, and many other items we are so used to having on our tables that we forget their long journeys before they come to us—via the grocery store.

Meat! We do raise meat. Thousands of tons of it. On the great wide spaces of the prairies cattle rustle on a hundred hills—while Eastern Canada produces some of the finest beef in the world. Our hog production is magnificent, we raise thousands of sheep for slaughter, to say nothing of turkeys, chickens, ducks and geese for market. Our fisheries are among the finest in the world.

Sharing our bread is as old as time. Sharing our meat is as new as tomorrow—but they both answer the same human need—hunger.

Prepare Start Work On $2,000,000 Road

Construction of the $2,000,000 road over a 400-mile stretch between Grimshaw and Great Slave Lake is to be commenced immediately, according to information received by officials of the Alberta Motor Association.

The 250-mile stretch within Alberta from Grimshaw north to the boundary with the Northwest Territories, is to be shared on a 50-50 basis between the province and Dominion.

More than 600 men will be employed on the section within the province. There will be five contracts, each for 50-mile sections.

The provincial authorities plan to have work commenced during October, when crews will be enabled to undertake preliminary clearing. It is expected that considerable power machinery will be operated on the project.

Motorists have a special interest in this road as it runs past the famous Alexandra Falls, one of the finest scenic attractions of the whole north country.

The final agreement between the Dominion and provincial governments has been signed by the province and forwarded to Ottawa for final execution.

U.S. Forces Popular In Jasper National Park

United States Forces have been much in evidence in Jasper National Park, Alberta, during the past summer. Men and women who have seen service in Alaska, the Aleutians and other outposts in the far-flung regions of the North, have enjoyed rest and recreation amidst the majestic scenery of this famous mountain playground.

Between 50 and 60 at a time have been using the cabins at Whistler Creek during the summer months, rotating for periods of a week or thereabouts—thus giving the largest possible number an opportunity to enjoy the experience of a holiday in the park. Many of them will be coming back again when they return to civil life and will be bringing their families and friends with them.

They have been among the most popular of the park visitors this year, are good mixers, have unbounded energy and an insatiable desire to see as many of the park's outstanding features as possible in the short time at their disposal. Many have added to their snapshot collections photographs of wildlife, snow-capped mountain peaks, sparkling glaciers and tumbling waterfalls—thereby spreading the fame of Jasper's attractions to many parts of the United States.

Popular pastimes were horseback riding, swimming, cycling, boating, tennis, archery, volleyball and golf, all free of charge. There were also bus and pack trips, and dances at which the girls of the Boosters' Club of Jasper were hostesses.

Jasper National Park has been further enlivened during the past summer by paratroopers of the R.C.A.F. Search and Rescue School, dropping from the air, landing on flats, on glaciers, in the tops of tall trees—in fact, they seem to be able to land anywhere nowadays. Having their "chute caught in the top of a tree does not appear to present any serious difficulty. The men are equipped with a lowering rope by which they ease themselves gently but rapidly to the ground. Parachute jumping in wooded country holds out the prospect of more extensive use of the airplane in fighting forest fires in the national parks. Aerial transportation of fire fighters has not been used very extensively in the parks so far, but in the United States the Department of Agriculture has for a number of years been carrying out experiment in this field, apparently with satisfactory results.

Not so very many years ago travelling through Jasper National Park was limited largely to explorers, fur traders, trappers, missionaries, and other adventurous pioneers who blazed the trails through the Canadian Rockies. Few sections of the great mountain barrier are so rich in historic associations. Travelling over the Athabasca Trail became synonymous with adventure, courage, fortitude and great physical endurance. Today the park has a system of first-class motor roads which are gradually being extended to outlying portions. Visitors arrive in comfortable motor cars or railway coaches, and now the airplane promises to facilitate still further travel into this great mountain fastness in the heart of the Canadian Rockies. Time and distance no longer present any serious handicap to those who wish to escape from the busy workaday world into the peace and serenity of this 4,200-square-mile sanctuary. But however much modern transportation may increase the number of visitors, Jasper National Park will lose little of its primitive grandeur and breath-taking appeal. Those responsible for developing this immense area as a national playground are seeing that its beauty and charm remain unspoiled, its wildlife unmolested, and its natural phenomena unblemished, so that its attractions may be enjoyed to the full by present and future generations.

As a recreational area, Jasper National Park ranks high among Canada's tourist attractions and is regarded as one of her greatest natural assets.

A farmer down in New Jersey has recently proved a contention advanced some time ago in this column—that a small airport can be mighty profitable even if it's located miles from a town, providing it will give service to fliers from the big cities who want some place to fly to.

The farmer in question simply took out a hay mower and cut a couple of big broad, smooth runways about 300 feet wide and 2,000 feet long. He had to knock out one fence to do it, but aside from that there was very little work involved.

Then he put up a wind sock to show the direction of the wind and sent a number of bulletin board notices to each city airport within 100 miles advertising the "best chicken dinners in New Jersey" for $1.50. Within one month his customers ran into several hundred. Pilots who had been monotonously taking off and circling their home airports got a tremendous bang out of finding their way across country to the farm, making their landing and taxiing up to the kitchen door.

The chances of the same thing being done by Canadian farmers within 50 to 100 miles of such cities as Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg, Edmonton and Vancouver are excellent. The ideal farmer to try it out will be an air force veteran with a plane of his own on his father's farm perhaps.

Quite apart from the opportunity for regular small town airports between Montreal and Toronto where the average light plane needs to make at least one refueling stop enroute there is also a wonderful farm airport opportunity.

Most of Canada's population lives within 50 miles of number 2 Highway and almost any farm in the number 2 highway belt between Toronto and Montreal could do a thriving business catering to light aircraft whose owners wish simply to refuel both planes and themselves.

Any farmer who tries it will be sure to get plenty of free advertising at every airport in Southern Ontario.
The same, no doubt, will apply in the Quebec City-Montreal area, and also out west.

At the end of 1944, there was a total of 35,956 women in the Canadian armed forces.

There are three ways to organize the world: 1. Beat each other down,
2. Let each other down, 3. Hold each other up.

At home it's easy to be a dictator and call it "authority" or to be an ap-peaser and call it "love".

Hints for the Household

Grape Conserve

4 cups prepared fruit
Grated lemon rind
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup sugar
2 cups light corn syrup
1/2 lb. seeded raisins
1 cup nut meats, finely chopped
1/2 bottle fruit pectin.

To prepare fruit, stem and crush well about 3 pounds fully ripe grapes. Add 1/2 cup water, bring to a boil and simmer, covered 30 minutes. Remove seeds and skins by sieving. If desired, chop or grind skins and add to pulp. Grate rind and squeeze juice from 2 medium lemons.

Measure sugar, corn syrup and prepared fruit into large kettle, filling up last cup with water if necessary. Add lemon rind and juices, raisins and nuts; mix well. Bring to a full rolling boil over hottest fire. Stir constantly before and while boiling. Boil hard 1 minute. Remove from fire and stir in bottled fruit pectin. Then stir and skim by turns for just 5 minutes to cool slightly and prevent floating fruit. Pour quickly. Paraffin hot conserve. Makes about 13 glasses. (5 fluid ounces each).

FOR HALLOWEEN OR LATER
Talking about recipes, here's one for 3 1/2 dozen cookies—42 cookies—with only one-quarter cup of sugar needed! That's certainly a sugar-saver. Although these cookies are a "natural" for Halloween, they will prove to be year 'round favorites, especially for our molasses-flavor-loving youngsters.

Soft Molasses Hermits
1 1/2 cups sifted flour
1 1/2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon cloves
1/2 cup shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1/4 cup molasses
1/4 cup sour milk or buttermilk
1/4 cup raisins

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, salt, and spices and sift again. Cream shortening; add sugar gradually and cream together until light and fluffy. Add egg and beat well; then add molasses. Add flour alternately with milk, stirring only to blend. Add raisins. Drop from teaspoon on lightly greased baking sheet, placing about 2 inches apart. Bake in hot oven (400°F.) 10 minutes or until done. Makes 3 1/2 dozen cookies.

A "MAKE-YOUR-OWN" SAUCE

If your family has been complaining recently, about not having enough chocolate flavored desserts, now's your chance to make up for this oversight.

For here is a recipe for a glossy smooth sauce for cakes, puddings and ice cream, which gets its double rich chocolate flavor from the use of the new style Dutch process cocoa. It's a fine recipe to keep handy. With it you may "make your own" and, thanks to the use of corn syrup, there's practically no strain on your ### sugar supply.

Fudge Sundae Sauce
1/2 cup Dutch process cocoa
1/2 cup sugar
Dash of salt
1 cup corn syrup
1 cup hot water
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Mix together cocoa, sugar and salt in saucepan. Add syrup and water gradually, stirring until smooth. Cook and stir over low flame until mixture boils. Continue boiling, without stirring, about 12 to 16 minutes, or until mixture thickens and a small amount forms a jellyed mass in cold water (230°F.). Remove from fire. Add butter. Makes 1 1/2 cups sauce. Serve over ice cream, prepared vanilla pudding, or other desserts.

"FAVORITE" MOLASSES CAKE

There are thousands of recipes called "favorite" this or "favorite" that, for "favorite" seems to be the cook's favorite word.

Sometimes the use of this adjective stretches a point, but here is a recipe for a sugar saving cake; a cake that is ideal for serving with apple sauce; a cake that undoubtedly will be a real "favorite" in your family.

Favorite Molasses Cake

3/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup butter or other shortening
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup molasses
2 eggs, unbeaten
1/2 cup milk plus 1 tablespoon
1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift flour once, measure, add baking powder, soda, and salt, and sift together three times. Cream shortening, add sugar gradually, and cream thoroughly; then add molasses gradually and beat until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each. Add flour, alternately with milk, a small amount at a time, beating after each addition until smooth. Add vanilla. Bake in two greased 8-inch layer pans in moderate oven (375°F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or in greased 10x10x2-inch pan in moderate oven (350°F.) 35 minutes, or until done.

AN "EXTENDER" TIP
Take a single pound of sausage. Amplify with raisin bran. Add some inexpensive extras. And, all ready for the pan. You will have some tasty patties. Six full servings! Luscious treat! Using bran as an extender is a tip that's hard to beat.

WE'LL HAVE THE MONEY

LIKE thousands of other Canadians, farmers will welcome the 9th Victory Loan as another opportunity to save money to provide for future plans.

Victory Loans have provided an excellent means of helping the war effort, at the same time contributing to our own personal welfare.

Canada needs more money now . . . to make loans to foreign countries so that they can establish credits which will enable them to buy food and other things which they require.

This food will come from Canadian farms; these goods from Canadian factories. When we help to create markets for our farm produce abroad . . . and when we help to keep Canadian factories busy . . . we help to maintain good prices for the things that Canadian farms produce.

Victory Bonds also provide a reserve fund of working capital for our own use . . . so handy to have so many times. Any bank will buy Victory Bonds at any time, or loan money on Victory Bonds if we need cash.

. . . and for our future plans, we'll have the money required for things we want to do . . .

Get ready to buy more Victory Bonds this Fall. Buy double this time—the same rate of savings as in previous loans will pay for twice as many bonds over the 12 month period.

THE SCHOOL DORMITORY

Who ever thought of building the school dormitory, should in our way of thinking be given great credit.

A dormitory has been needed in our town for some time and with the graph showing that country pupils are reaching higher grades in school, it is only practicable to give them living accommodation.

Aside from the living accommodation angle, it will very decidedly mean increased revenue to our local merchants.

With the bringing of the children into school on Mondays and calling for them on Fridays, it means that more farmers will have ample opportunity to shop in town.

True enough, we don't expect the farmer to buy a tractor, or combine every week, but there will be more money spent in the town, even if it is only for 5 gallons of gasoline.

Wainwright is fortunate in having the dormitory situated here, as geographically we are not exactly in the centre of the school division. However our train, bus, telephone and gas service are better than anywhere else in the school division, therefore it was logic that it was situated in our fair town.

Many thanks to the School Board, Wainwright appreciates this gesture, and in time to come, it will mean untold benefits to the educational aspects of our children and to the community.

PEACE MEMORIAL CENTRE

As carried in these columns in last week's paper, the idea of a memorial centre is very keen in town.

This is a very worthwhile project, if only it can be carried through because such facilities that would be afforded by an arena are unavailable at the present time.

In the original plan, it was decided to call the arena, a war memorial, but the Wainwright Branch of the Canadian Legion looked upon this with disfavor, and the name was consequently changed. Their point was that with two memorials in the same town, it would lead to confusion at the time of paying homage to our war dead. This is true and it would be a bit misleading as to the true feeling of "In Memoriam", which takes place in town every year on November 11th.

On Mr. L. C. Tory's motion, the objective to be raised is $20,000.00 which will in all probability be raised through public canvas, throughout the town and district.

This may seem like a lot of money, but it takes a lot of money to finance such a thing as is contemplated. Surely not very many people would miss money that is to be used to such an advantage that we then could all enjoy.

The plans for subscription, and other details have not as yet been worked out but we feel quite confident that with the leadership of such a capable chairman and committee, they will be forthcoming in short order.

Just by way of a suggestion, the Star would like to make at this time for one way of raising money. In our fair town neighboring to the east, Chauvin plans to build a skating rink are underway and one of the ideas for the raising of the money, is to hold a community Auction Sale. This we feel would help out in the drive for funds but likely we are slow, and it has been thought of by the executive already. However we can not but whole heartedly feel that support should be given to such an undertaking as the one planned. Let us hope so.

still to be shipped.

The United Kingdom and Liberated Europe rely on Canada for 114,000,000 lbs. this year.

We supplied only 44,000,000 lbs. to August 31.

In most liberated European countries; there is a desperate shortage of meat.

As a great food-producing nation; Canada must, can—and will—help to meet the emergency.

The job will not be finished at the year's end. Food scarcities in Europe will continue until the next harvest.

***
This year, Europe is relying on Canada for a minimum of 789 million pounds of beef, pork and canned meat.

Up to the end of August, only 479 million pounds had been sent.

How soon can we bridge the gap?

Livestock marketings are normally at their heaviest in the last four months of the year.

If we are to help feed the hungry peoples of devastated Europe, this is the time to make our greatest effort.

***

To do our part; we must reduce our own consumption of meat and also assure that everyone in Canada gets a fair share.

That is why rationing is necessary.

MEAT RATIONING ADDS TO EVERYONE'S WORK

The producer who slaughters, the retailer who sells; the consumer who buys and eats—they all play a vital part.

AS A CONSUMER, HERE IS HOW YOU CAN CO-OPERATE

1. Try to plan your meat purchases before leaving home by determining what cuts you intend to buy and their approximate weights.
2. Make sure you have enough valid coupons and tokens to cover your proposed purchases by referring to the Consumer Coupon Value Chart and the Coupon and Token Calculator. Copies may be obtained from your Local Ration Board or Ration Branch.
3. Know the dates your "M" coupons become valid.
4. Do not buy more meat than you really need.
5. Avoid shopping at rush hours.
6. Be patient. Remember—your butcher may have inexperienced help.

Canada Too Modest?

I have been looking at a map showing the distribution of Mutual Aid by Canada to the nations of the World. It made me wonder whether perhaps we are too modest about our part in the War. Just the other day I heard Dr. T. V. Soong, premier of China, tell a group of Canadian newspapermen that we are not a boastful people, and that we are inclined to hide our light under a bushel. Certainly his words of gratitude to Canadians were heartening.

But modest or not, we would do well to study Mutual Aid, as provided by Canada, and take pride in the part that we have played.

Far-Reaching Aid

To return to the map, which is part of the second annual report of Mutual Aid, Radiating from Canada are strong black lines which denote the paths Mutual Aid has travelled. Great Britain, France, Tunisia, Algeria, French West Africa, Libya, Egypt, Iraq, Iran, India, Ceylon, the Cameroons, Tanganyika, Rhodesia, French Equatorial Africa, the West Indies, New Zealand, the Solomon Islands, New Guinea, Australia, the Philippine Islands, China and Soviet Russia. These were the names I saw.

The end of Mutual Aid, September 2, does not mean the end or delay in the flow of essential civilian supplies to our allies, as Finance Minister Massey pointed out in the House of Commons. The Mutual Aid report showed a total expenditure from its inception to March 31, 1945, of $1,715,945,000.

Most of the countries receiving Mutual Aid will require credits to obtain what they need from this country, and negotiations are now proceeding.

Just as the path that Mutual Aid has travelled is a diverse one, so have been the activities of this great contribution of Canada.

Goods, Not Dollars

As the report points out, Mutual Aid is a device which has removed the dollar sign from obstructing the flow of Canadian aid to battlefronts. Not dollars, but goods, were sent. Bullets delivered under Mutual Aid to the armies of Great Britain or Russia can hardly be called Canadian gifts to these countries, since the final recipients of the bullets were the enemies of Canada.

Another striking feature of the report is the part that Canadian inventions played in final victory. Canada, for instance, was the first to develop and put into use an accurate anti-aircraft fire control radar set. Another instance; the Canadian-developed universal treatise, an intermediate support for the Bailey bridge, lessened the difficulty in crossing very wide rivers.

The United Kingdom, of course, benefitted greatly, through Mutual Aid. But did you know that Canadian Mutual Aid to the Soviet Union during the fiscal year 1944-45 amounted to $97,633,000, or more than three times that of the previous fiscal year.

And did you know that drought in Australia severely affected that continent and New Zealand, and that in consequence Canada has supplied New Zealand with wheat?

Mutual Aid has had its part to play in the liberation and re-establishment of France. Goods and services provided to France under Mutual Aid during the past year amounted to about $17,552,000.

Under the Mutual Aid agreement with India, military vehicles and wheat have been contributed to the war effort of that country. These goods were shipped largely in vessels owned and operated by Canada.

Mutual Aid has also had an additional task in the procurement of Canadian supplies for UNRRA.

These are just random jottings from the Mutual Aid report, but they do indicate to us the scope of Canada's war effort.

Democracy begins in industry when industry goes to government with a program for its own regulation, instead of having government step in.

PUBLIC NOTICE

There will be a public meeting in the Council Chambers on Friday, October 12th, for all those interested in curling activities for the coming season.

When Edgar Bergen left for New York Monday, Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer and Effie travelled in more style than their boss. Completed, especially in time for the New York trek was a miniature house-trailer named for Charlie.

The trailer is an exact to-scale model, a streamlined aluminum design which was hand tooled. The doors and windows are equipped with workable venetian blinds and regulation miniature tail and clearance lights which operate on a transformer built into the trailer.

For broadcasts the top slides off, one side drops down and the white leather-lined trailer is ready for business. After shows, it's once again the perfect housing unit for three smart dummies.

The housing unit may be perfect, but Charlie's termite problems continued until the new insecticide, DDT, was released to the Los Angeles public this week. Edgar Bergen was one of the first purchasers.

Bergen spent all day last Saturday moth-proofing his closets and those holding Charlie McCarthy's wardrobe. "One whiff of that stuff," says Charlie, "and my termite troubles are now over!"

Canadian Homes

Survey

(Prairie Provinces)

Moderate and low-cost homes in Prairie Provinces cities and small towns have sunnier rooms than any other part of Canada except the Maritime Provinces. Houses crammed end to end in poorly planned ribbon development compel many Canadians to burn lights in some room of their house during the day. Nationally the average is 27% of city houses, 17% of small town houses and 7% of farm homes. Comparable Prairie figures are 16% and 6% for cities and small towns. Prairie farm houses are the only dwellings in Canada where so few people need lights on before dark that researchers awarded them a completely clean sheet on this count.

But fewer western women have running water laid on in their homes than women in any other region of Canada. They also need gas or electric ranges and refrigerators to bring them up to the national average for ownership of these facilities.

Analyzing the findings of their "Canadian Homes" Survey by the five main geographic regions, Lever Brothers Limited have revealed how living conditions in moderate and low-cost homes compare with each other in different parts of Canada and with the country as a whole.

"Food - Clothing - and Shelter - the three basic needs of every human being - should be available to everyone, at a price which they can afford to pay and of a standard which makes for healthy, happy, comfortable living," said C. A. Massey, Lever President, speaking to the Kiwanis Club of Montreal today. "This has already happened with food and clothing. Why has it not happened with housing?" continued Mr. Massey. Lever women researchers visited homes throughout the West and other provinces and interviewed housewives to find out how their homes meet basic household needs in terms of shelter - feeding - and cleaning.

A national average of 96% of Canadian moderate and low-cost city homes have running water laid on. Prairie Province cities are 16% less, with only 78%. In small towns with 47%, and on farms with only 11%, we are still worse off compared with the national figures of 72% and 37%.

Probably as a result of the shortage of running water, there are proportionately more outside toilets here than anywhere else in Canada. Quebec alone has succeeded in banishing them entirely from her cities. In Prairie cities, where density of population would tend to multiply the effects, more than one house in every seven is still unhygienic in this respect. Small towns and farms show 71% and 89% respectively depending on them. Comparable national averages are 4 per cent, 36% and 65%.

The need for running water is also reflected in figures which show Prairie homes short of bathroom, kitchen and laundry equipment. Regular bathtubs, wash basins, sinks, laundry tubs, all are more plentiful in the other four main geographic regions. 86% of women in our cities have to do without proper bathtubs, 41% lack wash basins. In small towns the shortage of bathtubs is 73% and of wash basins 75%. Farms are without them in 83% and 88% of cases.

In the kitchen the basic piece of equipment would seem to be the sink. Without it are one in eight homes, one in four small town homes and almost half of farm homes. Of the people who have one, about one in five complains it is too low for comfort.

In villages and on farms, built in laundry tubs are so rare that interviewers rated ownership of them as NIL. In cities nine-tenths of people are without. Most women use the movable metal kind that have to be lugged around, filled by hand and tipped out after each rinsing.

If running water is scarce, hot running water is still scarcer. One-third of city women, three-quarters of village women and nine-tenths of farm women must heat every drop of hot water they need in a kettle or other container on top of the stove, for laundry, dishes, baths, and all the other cleaning tasks to which it is indispensable.

Don't take so much time to settle grievances at the plant that you build up grievances at home. Want Ads have no holiday—they get results any day.
